ABOUT THE MATRIX AWARDS

Since 1970, the Matrix Awards have been presented by New York Women in Communications (NYWICI)—the New York City's largest organization of professional women in the communications industry. It has honored and celebrated female empowerment and achievement in the field of communications and the arts since its first honoree, Gloria Steinem. The Matrix Award is given to women who are making a difference, building community and inspiring the next generation of female leaders in their field. Prior honorees include Maya Angelou, Halle Berry, Sheryl Crow, Tina Fey, Gayle King, Audra McDonald, Sheryl Sandberg, Joanna Coles, Cindi Berger, Dia Simms and Meredith Vieira. For a full list of honorees see here.

AUDIENCE

The NYWICI community is approximately 70% are female and 30% are male from a variety of communications fields including broadcasting, publishing, journalism, media and marketing, advertising, public relations and corporate communications.

WHO WE ARE

Founded in 1929, NYWICI is the premier organization for female communications professionals. Today, the 90-year-old not-for-profit association has more than 2,500 members—from senior executives to students and entrepreneurs to young professionals—in a variety of communications disciplines, including journalism, broadcasting, corporate communications, digital and integrated marketing, publishing, advertising, photography, public relations, graphic design and more.

NYWICI's mission is to empower women in the communications field at every career stage to reach their full potential and navigate the ever-changing landscape of communications. We promote professional growth and inspire members to achieve and share success by actively encouraging leadership and professional development, as well as networking opportunities that connect women who connect the world. Over the last 50 years, NYWICI has honored the industry's most outstanding leaders and celebrated all the courageous women who have come before them and those who will come after with the Matrix Awards. Since 1971, 340 women have received the NYWICI Matrix Award.

Each year, NYWICI awards scholarships ranging from $2,500 to $10,000 to high school seniors, college and graduate students, and offer educational programs, including an annual Communications Bootcamp for women beginning their careers or embarking on career transitions. To date, we have awarded more than $2 million in scholarship support to over 350 women. We've also awarded $47,000 in PIVOT Development Grants — self-directed grants to female professionals who seek to evolve their careers — to 30 deserving women.

As women who connect, create and communicate, NYWICI members serve as role models, career
